

AKI-MATTI ALANEN

PhD

Aki-Matti is a fourth year PhD student from University of Calgary. His research focuses on measuring change of direction movement in youth soccer with wearable technology and injury prevention methods.

Aki-Matti has a MSc in Physiotherapy from University of Jyväskylä and worked at Kisakallio Sports Institute as Chief Specialist before starting to pursue his PhD in Canada.