

ZÖE WIMSHURST

Senior Lecturer

Zöe completed her PhD investigating the Visual Skills of Elite Athletes in 2012 and in the decade since then has continued to research the links between perception and performance. In 2007 she began working with the British Hockey Team in preparation for the Beijing Olympics and has continued to work in elite sport since then. In 2010 she founded Performance Vision Ltd and has worked in sports as diverse as Biathlon, Formula 1, Rugby and Bobsleigh.

In this talk Zöe will discuss how the research has informed her applied practice and the influence of vision on skill acquisition. She will also discuss ongoing research areas and the future of sports vision as she sees it.